

Indian Independence Day Parade in New York

August 15 is the anniversary of the Independence from the British rule for the Indian community in New York and allover the world. It is a big celebration with an annual parade that see thousands of people coming together. Ananda Marga is always most welcome to re joy together with the Indian Community .

This slideshow requires JavaScript.