A COMMENTARY ON
SHRII SHRII ANANDAMURTI'S ANANDA SUTRAM

DEVASHISH

Didi Ananda Mitra's Commentary on Ananda Sutram has been out of stock for a while. Brother Devashish has now published a new commentary with the name "The Conscious Universe." We have made it available on the Ananda Marga Books website, which is managed by New York Sector. Please see the link here below:

Ananda Sutram is a modern-day exposition of Tantric philosophy composed in 1961 by the Indian sage and Tantric master Shrii Shrii Anandamurti. Over the course of eighty-five succinct and challenging sutras, it follows the river of Tantra into the present day, and along the way, it adds a wealth of new ideas and fresh insights to this ancient spiritual tradition.

In keeping with the practice of writing commentaries to help students understand the intricacies of philosophical texts written in the sutra form, The Conscious Universe interprets this important work in a language that is readily accessible, drawing from parallels with modern science and the other classical systems of Indian philosophy to make this extraordinary map of reality easier to read.
